

HAIL STORM VICTIMS: HOW TO MAXIMIZE YOUR CLAIM

Things you should know

Recent wind and hail storms that came through your area have left insurance adjusters overwhelmed and overworked. They continue to process hailstorm damage insurance claims as possible, but many property owners are finding that they have been drastically underpaid or denied payments from their insurance companies for legitimate storm damage insurance claims.

Most property owners don't even know they've been underpaid. They are getting estimates based on those underpayments and having the work done. Once repairs have been made, property owners will never be able to go back to their insurance company to recover the balance of the money owed to them to finish the repairs.

Filing a Claim

If you have not yet filed a claim, do so immediately. There is a limited time in which to file your storm damage claim. When a claim is filed, make sure that Sterling Roofing & Restoration is present to protect your interests when the insurance adjuster inspects your property. Property owners with storm damage every year learn that it is never a good idea to allow insurance adjusters to inspect your property for damage without an experienced storm damage insurance recovery and restoration specialist like Sterling Roofing & Restoration present during the inspection. With our experienced team of hail storm damage restoration experts, we know how to identify the damage and get you paid. If you have already filed a claim but an adjuster has not yet inspected your property — call us right now so that we can be there when your property is inspected. If an adjuster has already inspected your property, Sterling Roofing & Restoration will review your insurance companies findings to make sure that you will be paid for all incurred damages.

Dealing with your Insurance Company

Insurance companies know that property owners who experience hail storm damage will experience this loss only once in a lifetime. They will often try to rush your claim through the system in the hopes that you will accept their findings at face value. This costs property owners like you millions of dollars each year in underpaid or denied claims for legitimate hail damages.

Free Damage Inspections

There is no cost for our inspection, loss report audit and adjuster meeting service. Our agreement with our property owners is simply that if we are successful in getting their claim approved for payment, we will process their claim and make sure their restoration is done right. Each restoration is inspected at each stage of the process from start to finish which includes making sure that all the work is done properly and to our exacting specifications using only the best available materials and our highly qualified and insured hand picked certified installers. Our efforts on your behalf could result in you being paid hundreds to thousands of additional dollars worth of legitimate insurance company restoration payments for damage that insurance adjusters and inexperienced retail contractors regularly overlook. You will love the way your new home looks as Sterling Roofing & Restoration completes your restoration.

Company Information

Sterling Roofing & Restoration has been able to recover thousands of dollars from property and casualty insurance companies for legitimate damage that were overlooked by insurance adjusters and inexperienced contractors. If property owners had not enlisted our help, their claim window would have closed for good and they would have forever lost their opportunity to recover the additional money that was owed to them for the damage repairs.

Make sure you recover every dollar you are entitled to. Call today to schedule a free in-home inspection and consultation. It will be the best money you've never spent.
